

Ngwese Alain

Greetings to everyone. I am Ngwese Alain from Dschang. I have gained and learned a lot from Change Communications and its UBUNTU whatsapp group.

During a two days workshop I attended in Dschang, we were taught what a hate speech is and its consequences on the society, what a false information (fake news) is, how to identify it, how to use our phones for peace and many others. Before attending this workshop, I wasn't aware I could use my phone to preach peace and I used to receive and forward any type of information online. But today, thanks to *change communications,* I'm now aware that not any type of information is meant to be distributed to the public because, some information are fake and might mislead the people.

Change communications has also helped me learn on how to interact on a social platform through its UBUNTU whatsapp group. The experience I get on this social platform helps me to interact better in other groups both in my environment and on social media. I also get a lot of knowledge in the UBUNTU group through the quiz and other interesting topics we discuss. Change communications has really helped me learn a lot.

Long live change communications.
